Hopkinton is a vibrant community and some of the institutions helping to make the town shine are described below.

Living in Hopkinton

A day in the home life...

As a working parent of two, my spouse and I decided to move to Hopkinton because of the incredibly beautiful landscape and the community’s commitment to excellent education.

From the amazing teachers at Hopkinton Integrated Preschool, the staff at Kidsborough, the dedicated volunteers of Hopkinton Youth Soccer, and the loving community - our children have grown up with amazing support and developed a solid foundation to carry them far in the future. We are active in the HPTA and love doing activities as a family at the YMCA Outdoor Center.

We spend time with our neighbors at the Farmers Market, at Movie nights, and Concerts on the Common. We enjoy meeting up with friends at Bill’s Pizza, Carbone’s, Ko Sushi & Grill, Quattro, Dynasty, The Spoon, 110 Grill and catch magnificent performances at the Hopkinton Center for the Arts afterwards.

Of course there is the start of the B.A.A Boston Marathon - and so many inspiring races that go through town each year that keep us motivated to log a few more miles on our Fitbits. There are also beaches and boating, hiking, and golf to keep us outdoors and healthy.

Hopkinton is an amazing place to live. The community is diverse and supportive. I am proud to be a resident here.

Working in Hopkinton

A day in the working life...

Working in Hopkinton is convenient. From the commercial development on South Street to the downtown Historical District, and beyond, the town has made working in Hopkinton conducive to my lifestyle by providing a healthy balance for my busy schedule. I can even ride my bike to work thanks to new sidewalk and bike lane expansions.

At lunch I can pop out of the office to bank at Unibank, grab a coffee at Starbucks, or a quick lunch at Bison Burger. After work I can get an amazing workout at CrossFit Resilience, pick up my clean shirts at Hillers Cleaners, grab dinner at Price Chopper, a nice bottle of wine at Vin Bin and then meet the whole family down at Sandy Beach.

The town has thought of everything. From commercial zoning to proper lighting and signage for business parks - working in Hopkinton just feels good. You’re surrounded by nature, buildings are environmentally friendly, and commutes into Boston or Worcester are a snap with nearby access to the MBTA Commuter Rail, I-90, and I-495.

I couldn’t imagine a better working environment. The companies in the area are top notch and supportive of the community. I am proud to work in Hopkinton.

The mission statement of the Hopkinton Public School District is "learn, create, achieve together." To do this, we must collaborate and connect with the Hopkinton community. Indeed, in this community, the role of Superintendent of Schools reaches well beyond the school department. Moreover, our students' needs and education extend beyond the walls of our schools. Cultivating effective partnerships with family and within the community in order to meet each student's academic, social and emotional needs is a goal of mine as the Superintendent of Schools and is specifically stated as a goal in the School Committee’s Strategic Plan. Like most communities, we are becoming increasingly aware and concerned about student health, wellness, and stress. By working collaboratively with the Hopkinton community, we can develop a better understanding of the source of student stress and work together to establish reasonable expectations for our students.

Transportation

There is a ripple effect from beautification that promotes healthy, safe, environmentally conscious, and economically sound life styles. Hopkinton understands these benefits and has made it a priority to create beauty around one of our greatest man-made resources – our transportation routes. From increased and expanded sidewalks, bike paths, and hiking trails, to easier access to mass transit, Hopkinton sees the need to make this access abundant and aesthetically pleasing for residents and those doing business here. When entrances to businesses look inviting and green, shoppers visit. When bikers feel safe, they find simpler ways to traverse connecting roadways. When we slow down to admire the beauty of trees and flowers around us, we are more careful behind the wheel. These results benefit our residents, businesses, and generations of young children to come.

Hopkinton has experienced commercial and residential growth, and it has taken a hands-on approach to ensure that as change occurred, it was managed well. Hopkinton is goal oriented, and recognizes that in order to achieve many of the community’s goals, partnerships are key. One of the most important partners is the Chamber of Commerce and the Hopkinton 20/20 committee. This formal partnership with the Town means that Hopkinton 20/20 leads the Town’s economic development efforts. This unique partnership enables a coordinated approach to economic development and the Town’s regulatory framework, through facilitated communication and collaborative action.

Hopkinton is not an island, and regional partnerships and collaboration are important to ensuring that Hopkinton and its neighbors are strong together. Hopkinton and many businesses located here are members of the 495/MetroWest Partnership. This unique public-private collaboration with businesses, municipalities and other stakeholders works to create an environment that prepares for and cultivates sustainable growth.

Concentrating on transportation, water resources and energy and sustainable development, the organization focuses on coordination, education and advocacy. In addition, the MetroWest Visitors Bureau is a resource and means for promoting tourism in Hopkinton and the region. Hopkinton is proud to host the start of the Boston Marathon and looks to share its resources and events with visitors.

Most recently, Hopkinton partnered with the State, entering into a formal Community Compact. Hopkinton has committed to partnering with the private sector, non-profits and public sector organizations in order to advance the housing and economic development vision and goals of the community.

Sincerely,
Elaine Lazarus
